

To whom it may concern,

Hello! My name is Saad, and I'm a junior at Rutgers University where I am majoring in computer science. I have a passion for web development, and I've had the opportunity to work at some great companies where I was able to put my knowledge to practical use.

My internships have mostly dealt with front-end web development, so I've tried to focus on doing back-end development for personal projects. Most of my back-end web development knowledge has been with Node.js and Express, but I am comfortable with Ruby and Sinatra as well. My front-end skills lie mostly with React and Redux.

Thanks for your consideration!

Regards,
Saad
